

I have a telephone in my home for my personal use. I do not have it for the purpose of tele-marketing or to be hounded at 9 o'clock at night. The U.S. postal service is a great way for these business to sell their product to consumers without hassling them with unwanted phone calls. I personally signed the no call list because I don't want these calls and that is a right that I have!